Direct Assault On Seoul About To Start

N. KOREANS USE LATE RUSSIAN GUN

LAKE SUCCESS—During his reading of General MacArthur's report on the Korean situation, American delegate, Warren Austin, displays a Russian-made sub-machine gun. The gun, captured from North Koreans, was shown to members of the United Nations Security Council. The gun was dated 1950, and MacArthur charged Russians have been and still are supplying Red aggressors with most modern Soviet weapons.

Fleeing Enemy Forces Battered By Allied Fliers

Hundreds Of Planes Deal Staggering Blows To N. Koreans

(BULLETIN)

TOKYO, Sept. 20.—(INS)—Swarming hundreds of Allied Air Force and Navy planes, credited with knocking out thousands of Red troops in the past few days, dealt staggering new blows to the North Korean invaders today.

Fleeing enemy forces in southeast Korea and columns moving toward Seoul for an apparent effort to defend the capital were the special targets of the day's "maximum effort" aerial support missions.

Carrier-borne and land-based aircraft of every available type struck anew at the foe and his transport facilities with tons of explosives, thousands of gallons of gasoline firebombs and rounds of aerial gunfire.

Mammoth Air Offensive

Wednesday's phase of the mammoth air offensive began when more than 60 American B-29 Superforts took off before dawn and spread out to hammer 37 different objectives throughout Korea.

Shortly thereafter, 50 F-80 and F-51 fighters of the Fifth Air Force soared into the Korean skies, followed by consecutive flocks of light bombers and fighter-bombers.

Simultaneously, four engine-driven cargo planes began the second day of the airlift of supplies to Kimpo airport, northwest of Seoul, to provide added sinews for the drive of U. S. Marine and Army troops to liberate the Korean capital.

In the first day of the airlift, more than 215 tons of "vital" needed supplies were flown to Kimpo Tuesday, an air force announcement stated.

Near Record of Sorties

Far East Air Forces Headquarters announced that a "near record" 670 air sorties were executed over Korea Tuesday by American Air Force and Marine flyers as well as Australian planes. The bulletin said:

New Offensive On East Coast Begun By South Koreans

By JOHN RICH

(I. N. S. War Correspondent)

TOKYO, Sept. 21.—(Thursday)—Waves of tank-led U. S. Marines stormed across the Han river to within four miles northwest of Seoul Wednesday and South Korean Marines launched a new amphibious offensive at Samchok on Korea's east coast.

A direct assault to free Korea's national capital was expected hourly as North Korean columns moved up under lethal Allied air attacks from the enemy's disintegrating southern front.

South Koreans Land at Samchok

Landing of the South Korean Marines at Samchok, 40 miles below the 38th parallel and 125 miles due east of Seoul, under cover of naval bombardment was announced by the Defense department in Washington.

Size of the South Korean force was not immediately disclosed. The announcement said little opposition was encountered.

The North Korean Communists established one of their first beachheads at Samchok in the opening of their invasion of South Korea.

The area was heavily blasted last Friday by the battleship Missouri simultaneously with the Inchon landings of U. S. Marines. The town is a hub of two main east coast highways.

Gain Ten Mile Stretch

On the Pusan perimeter in southeast Korea American forces, speeding up their nutcracker drives, wrested control of a ten-mile stretch of the west bank of the Nakdong river.

In swift thrusts they linked up with other American troops at captured Waegwan, 12 miles northwest of Taegu, for a powerful drive up the Seoul road toward Kumchon and Taejon.

Covered by the Korean War's heaviest naval and aerial barrages, the American Marines, estimated in the thousands, surged across the broad Han Wednesday morning at Hoengju, eight miles northwest of Seoul.

By early afternoon, the impatient leathernecks, yelling "Let's go!" had covered half the distance southeast to Seoul, seizing a key height from which they looked down upon the heart of the capital four miles away.

Open Way to Capital

Swiftly slicing east as well as southeast beyond their new-won bridgehead on the Han's northeast bank, the Marines slashed a double-tracked railroad and highway leading down to Seoul from the North Korean Communist capital of Pyongyang.

Thus, the way was opened for a siege onslaught to liberate Korea's five-centuries-old capital and wrest from the invaders their greatest prize of the war.

Marines Are At Gates Of Seoul Says MacArthur

By JOHN RICH

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

TOKYO, Sept. 21.—(Thursday)—(INS)—Tank-led Marines were reported by General Douglas MacArthur today to be "at the gates of Seoul" after storming in waves across the Han river.

MacArthur's dramatic report was carried in a front dispatch received in Tokyo at 12:20 a.m. Thursday (11:20 a.m. EDT, Wednesday) following his second daring tour of Marine lines on the Seoul front.

It came on the heels of a new amphibious offensive launched by South Korean Marines at Samchok on Korea's east coast Wednesday. In his eighth communique as United Nations supreme commander, MacArthur said:

"Our converging columns are now at the gateways of Seoul. The Marine division moving steadily southeast astride the Han river and on the south bank has reached the outskirts of Yongsung. It is advancing against stiffening resistance."

Yongsung is an industrial suburb of Seoul.

Lift Limitations On West German Steel Production

By JOHN A. REICHMANN

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Diplomatic sources indicated today that the entire western world will benefit by the big three decision to remove limitations on West German steel production and shipbuilding.

This decision was announced after a final meeting of Secretary of State Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Ernest Shuman.

It is considered more important, from the viewpoint of integrating the German Federal Republic into the defense and economic forces of the Atlantic Pact nations, than the proposal to end the state of war with Germany.

Officials emphasized that the decision does not envisage the revival of Germany's armaments or heavy chemical industries.

Effects Foreseen

As viewed in official sources, the decision will have these effects:

1. By building ships for such (Continued on Page Two)

Next month will bring the final Friday the thirteenth of this present year. Only two such days appear on the 1950 calendar. The last one was in January, the first month of this year.

Activity has begun at the old City Building located at East Washington and East streets. Some remodeling work is in effect and old fixtures are being removed by workmen.

Fire hydrant located at the intersection of Clayton and Liberty streets in the Seventh Ward is almost entirely obliterated by high weeds.

When new route 422 east of the city is thrown open to traffic early next year, measures should be taken to have Butler avenue resurfaced from John street to the city line. The surface of that street has become quite rough and is in need of attention.

Only local motorist is evidently searching for his license plate which became detached from his car. The plate of 1950 origin, bearing numbers 9S547 is attached to a utility pole at the intersection of Cedar street and Mahoning avenue.

Confirmation Of Gen. Marshall Seen As Certain

Johnson Is Still Awaiting Explanation For Being Dropped

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—(INS)—The senate is prepared to turn over to Gen. George C. Marshall today general direction of the Korean war and responsibility for America's security against communism.

Confirmation of the five-star general as secretary of defense is regarded as certain despite objections from a small circle of senators who protest the break in tradition.

Most of them made it plain they hold Marshall in high esteem but oppose having a military man instead of a civilian as head of America's defense establishment.

Army Takes Over Part Of Inchon Front Line Area

By BERNARD KAPLAN

(I. N. S. War Correspondent)

ON U. S. SEVENTH DIVISION FRONT, Sept. 20.—The Army took over its share of the Inchon beachhead front line today relieving some Marine units.

The Army came to the front walking—not riding. Fresh troops of the Seventh Division marched over dusty roads to replace bearded keen-eyed leathernecks who had been holding the right flank of the United Nations line advancing on Seoul.

There were no infantrymen riding trucks—a sight often seen during American retreats in Southern Korea earlier in the war.

SEN. WILEY RENOMINATED

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 20.—(INS)—U.S. Sen. Alexander Wiley piled up a 4-to-1 lead in his bid for renomination today as returns from Wisconsin's primary election passed the halfway mark.

The Republican incumbent had 121,820 votes to 33,920 for Edward J. Finnan—a political unknown who conducted a perfunctory campaign—with 1,680 of the state's 3,179 precincts tallied.

Wiley's opponent next November apparently will be Thomas E. Fairchild, who held a commanding lead over three opponents for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

Acheson Will Project Plan For U. N. Force

New President Is Named By United Nations Assembly

By PIERRE J. HUSS

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

FLUSHING MEADOW, N. Y., Sept. 20.—U. S. Secretary of State Acheson will urge the fifth U. N. Assembly today to safeguard world peace by calling on all member countries to earmark national troop units for emergency combat service abroad.

Will Be First

The top American diplomat, cheered by swift defeat in the Assembly last night of motions by India and Russia for the expulsion of Nationalist China and admission of the Peiping Communists, will be the first of the Big Four ministers to take the U. N. rostrum for policy statements.

It is generally believed that the 59-nation assembly can clear decks for Acheson's speech by 4:00 (EDT).

Beginning at 10:30 a. m., (EDT) the Assembly will be occupied with election of the officers of the six main committees. However, at 2 p. m., (EDT) when the "steering committee" sits down to tackle agenda priorities, difficulties may arise which could delay the Acheson speech.

New President

Wielding the gavel for the first time will be the newly elected Assembly president, dapper Nasrollah Entezam of Iran. He edged out Zafarullah Kahn of Pakistan for the office by 32 to 29 votes. The Russians, neighbors to his country, did not vote for Entezam but cast their bloc of five votes for candidates of their own.

Acheson is expected to ask the assembly for enactment at this session of a three-point program. This includes:

Vice Adm. Arthur D. Struble, U. S. Seventh Fleet commander, announced that the guns of the "Big Mo" joined the Han river action shortly after Marine spearheads drove down the river's north bank and captured Hill 127 four miles from Seoul.

Air reconnaissance reported that the Marines were advancing "rapidly." Within an hour after crossing the Han, the leathernecks cut a (Continued on Page Two)

Crash Of Navy Planes Causes Death For 26

PEARL HARBOR, Sept. 20.—(INS)—The Navy today launched an investigation into yesterday's crash of a C-54 transport plane which killed all 26 persons aboard.

Officials at Pearl Harbor and at Kwajalein, where the big four-engine plane plunged into the ocean in a sheet of flame only seconds after takeoff, conceded that cause of the crash will probably remain a mystery forever.

Mile and Half Under Water

The wreckage of the plane and 22 of the bodies lay a mile-and-a-half beneath the surface of the Pacific just outside the island's coral lagoon. The 7,200-foot depth of the ocean at this point ruled out any possibility of salvage operations.

The Navy said there was little chance of any of the bodies or further debris from the airplane would come to the surface.

From the Time of the Crash

Yesterday morning until nightfall planes and vessels circled the scene looking for bodies or debris. Shortly after the accident a crash boat recovered four bodies.

South Korean Marines Land At Samchok

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—(INS)—The Defense department announced today that South Korean Marines have landed and established a beachhead at Samchok on the eastern coast of Korea.

The new invasion is on the opposite side of the Korean peninsula and almost directly eastward from the American landing point at Inchon.

The strength of the South Korean force was not given. It was assumed at the Pentagon that the South Koreans were landed and supported by U. S. naval forces, and that little opposition had been encountered.

Samchok was one of the beachheads established by the North Korean Communists at the start of the war when they were moving down the peninsula.

The area was subjected to heavy bombardment by the battleship Missouri before it moved southward to Pohang and finally to the Inchon area.

A military spokesman said that the South Koreans may be able to sever two roads at Samchok.

One is the road leading down the east coast and the other branches off towards the southwest.

Warden Case Defense Opens

Warden Called To Witness Stand Just Before Noon

Eddie Warden took the stand in court room number one today to defend himself against the charge of the murder of Robert H. Wylie, Jr. on June 7, 1950.

At noon Warden had told of meeting William Fears and John Perkins on the morning of June 7 and of their drinking together. He was barely started upon his story at the noon recess.

Commonwealth Rests
The commonwealth rested its case about 11 o'clock and Attorney John D. Henderson opened for the defense. He told the jury the defense would show that Eddie Warden had fired the shot that killed Wylie but that the shot had been fired merely to frighten him, that the two men were friends and there was no malice, motive or premeditation in the act.

Before the commonwealth rested the following witnesses had been heard: Dr. George W. Gar-nett, William Fears, John Perkins, Dent Shields, Dr. W. A. Womer, Mrs. Robert H. Wylie, Jr., Police officers Weiss and Rozzi, and County Detective Howard C. Klebe.

In the testimony it was stated that Warden had told the police-men that "Wylie wasn't interfere in my life any more." County Detective Klebe told of talking to Warden the night of the killing, of seeing Warden identify the body of Wylie in the Jameson Memorial hospital and saying "I didn't mean to do it."

The jury was withdrawn prior to the defense opening when the defense offered a demurrer to the charges that Warden had made an assault with attempt to kill upon Irma Bennings. Judge Braham refused the demurrer and the case went on.

serial strikes mounted as light bombers and fighters attacked large groups of fleeing troops. An air force spokesman said South Korean troops smashing into the walled mountain strong-hold of Kasan, ten miles north of Taegu, counted 3,500 enemy dead in the town—most of them killed in air attacks.

U. S. fighter-bombers on Sun-day poured 6,000 gallons of jelled gasoline firebombs, known as napalm, into Kasan to pave the way for the entry of the South Korean troops.

Many Enemy Troops Killed
Earlier, other South Korean troops entering Pohang said they counted 3,800 bodies of Commu-nists killed in that eastern port city by air attacks.

Airmen Wednesday morning spotted and attacked troop-laden enemy vehicles moving north from Wae-gwan and other areas. In one of the day's air actions, the crew of the B-29 saw an enemy train enter a tunnel to escape bombing. The Superfort swept low and dumped sticks of bombs at both ends of the tunnel which was thereby sealed up, with the train trapped inside.

Other Superforts ranged as far north as the North Korean capital, Pyongyang where the B-29s en-tered.

3. Revise the rules of pro-cedure to enable the Assembly to be called on twenty-four hours notice for dealing with an emer-gency in which the Security Coun-cil has been rendered helpless by use of the veto.

Normally, Eisenhower's election would have been the Assembly's first order of business, but India interrupted the proceedings to present her resolution to admit the Chinese Communists.

Vishinsky Pitches In
Soviet Deputy Andrei Vishinsky immediately pitched into the fight with his own resolution, attacking the Nationalists as the "Kuomintang clique," and demanding that they be removed.

After a three-hour debate, which saw the first clash between Acheson and Vishinsky, the As-sembly finally got to a vote on the Chinese question. In rapid-fire order, the Indian and Russian res-olutions were overwhelmingly re-jected.

Then the Assembly adopted a Canadian resolution calling for the appointment of a special commit-tee to decide whether the Mao Tse-tung regime or that of Chiang Kai-Shek should be considered the representative of the Chinese peo-ple.

maritime nations as Norway, Sweden and Greece, Germany will have foreign exchange to meet some of her import demands.

2. Lifting the lid on steel pro-duction to the top of the present capacity of 13 million tons an-nually, in addition to providing additional foreign exchange, will meet needs of French and British armaments production.

3. As a result, demands on the U. S. arms production capacity will be lightened. Occupation costs are also likely to be curtailed. Europe will be able to bear a share of the burden of her defense program under the Atlantic Pact.

4. By being given a freer hand on internal affairs, private enter-prise in Germany is likely also to contribute to economic revival.

Formalities Existing Situation
Britain, France and the U. S. agree that any attack on western Germany will be considered an attack against themselves.

This wording closely approxi-mates the guarantees carried in the North Atlantic Pact.

Officials regarded many of the agreements largely as formalizing a situation which already exists in keeping the army of occupation as light as possible. It was empha-sized that, even were a state of war declared ended, provision is made for the maintenance of oc-cupation forces.

Consequently, while ending the state of war would have a good effect on morale, it will not great-ly alter the present situation. No urgency is felt about obtaining congressional action, which could be taken early next year.

CONFIRMATION OF GEN. MARSHALL SEEN AS CERTAIN

try in many high posts, was clear-ly when the armed services com-mittee endorsed Marshall by a nine to two vote.

The action came after the World War II army chief of staff and former secretary of state testified that:

1. He had no part in setting the much criticized U. S. policy of seeking a coalition in 1946 be-tween Chinese Communists and Nationalists.

2. He believes that national safety requires the closest cooperation between the state and defense de-partments.

3. His actions as secretary of state were restrained by America's "weak" military position.

Marshall refused to commit him-self to a position on the defense of Formosa, the arming of western Germany and a partnership for Spain in the free world's alliance against communism. He explained he was out of touch with these pressing issues.

Johnson Awaits Explanation

The author of the Marshall pro-gram for European recovery re-places Louis Johnson, who is still awaiting an explanation of the sud-den right about face by which he was dropped.

His friends, in relating the in-side story, say that Johnson's ex-ist was preceded by assurances of confidence and displays of friend-ship on the part of President Tru-man.

But the president strangely ig-nored Johnson's request that the chief executive deny a newspaper story that Johnson was finished as defense secretary. The story apparently emanated from a White House source.

Fuzzed by the situation and un-able to sleep, Johnson pondered what he should do during a 12-mile walk he began at midnight a week ago Monday.

No Reason Given

As he plodded back to his hotel at 4 a. m., his friends continue. Johnson concluded that the pres-ident's unusual silence could only mean his resignation was wanted—on the eve of his greatest accom-plishment, the turning of the tide in Korea.

The resignation was offered later that day, along with the sug-gestion that Marshall be the next defense chief. Mr. Truman's im-mediate comment was:

"This hurts me more than it does you, Lou, but it's got to be that way."

Johnson told a friend, "the thing that makes me heart sick is that he never gave me any reason for it...not a word of explana-tion."

was no sign of violence, no external bruises, no marks on the body."

Puzzled Over Reason
Authorities also were puzzled over a reason for the apparent suicide. The girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Maciolek, said she had been "upset" recently.

The father said Helen, their only remaining child, "didn't eat much. She paced the floor a lot, but we didn't know what was bothering her. I wish I had known what it was."

Dr. Sander, who led a search party through the woods in the hunt for the girl, said that he had not seen her before her death as she had been on a vacation. He said, however, that he knew some-thing was wrong and explained:

"Others told me she had been in a state of emotional upset for the past several days."

It was undetermined if Helen had died after what police called a "lover's quarrel". Perkins said he had been informed the girl re-cently had a squabble with a "boy friend". Close relatives and friends, however, failed to corrobo-rate this.

While Marine units consolidated their gains along the highway, other leathernecks swung south-east toward Seoul. Marines on the south bank captured Yanghwai near Yongdungpo two miles from the river bridges near Seoul.

Marine casualties up until noon (11 p.m. EDT Tuesday) were re-ported to be less than fifty.

The leathernecks moved their 40-ton tanks across the river on a pontoon bridge. The span was an aluminum ramp mounted on six massive rubber pontoons.

This makeshift "tank ferry" was propelled back and forth across the river by two motorboats lashed to each side.

Most North Korean defenders of the riverbank surrendered to the

Mrs. Hanley and the late Dr. Hanley were stationed at Stanton, Ky., for many years. Mrs. Hanley told that a great improvement in temperance among young people has been attained in recent years, but that the marijuana trade has been making a strong fight for the youth. Mrs. Hanley concluded the program by reading a very informative paper on organized crime and suggested ways of combating it.

The chapter's next meeting will be held October 17, with Mrs. Floyd Lortz, thank offering secretary, in charge of the program.

ters from Enon Valley, sang "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. George Allen. Mrs. Allen also played "The Bells of St. Mary's," "Always," and "I Love You Truly."

A reception was held at the bride's home immediately following the ceremony. The young couple later left for a honeymoon to an unrevealed destination.

Lesson In Classic Military Strategy

A striking lesson in classic military strategy and the painstaking work which must enter into its execution was presented to the North Atlantic defense council as it temporarily wound up discussion of far reaching measures to protect Europe from aggression. The "professor in charge"—quietly and appropriately—was Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

For after weeks of careful preparation, heart-breaking setbacks and invocation of the combined diplomatic and military ability for which he is famous, his effort on behalf of the United Nations in Korea began to pay real dividends. In the final analysis, what the defense council is trying to do is to set up machinery for accomplishment overnight of what MacArthur has been striving to do since the end of the Pacific war.

Coordinate Military Strength

This is a complete and absolute coordination of the military strength, the occupation policies and the mental attitudes of all powers concerned with the subjugation of Japan in 1945 and the prevention of a third world war.

When the invasion was staged by Soviet-backed communists from North Korea on June 25, the occasion found the wartime allies buried individually in the shifting sands of their own interests.

Great Britain was preoccupied—necessarily of course—with the Malay states, Singapore and Hong Kong.

France was engrossed to the exclusion of all other Asiatic affairs in Indo-China.

To Holland, the thing of prime importance was to find some means of preserving peace in liberated Indonesia and make sure, by one method or another, that the vast resources and production of the former imperial islands continue to be linked with the markets of Rotterdam and the economies of Amsterdam and The Hague.

Australia, as bitterly opposed to any new form of imperialism as Japan as she is to the spread of communist imperialism, was wrapped up in her own defense problems.

Under the still-new government

Shaping Up Before U. N. Sessions

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—If caution and timidity do not exercise too deadly an influence, the general assembly of the United Nations can be midwife to the new world that is trying so hard to be born. The bold, imaginative, creative plans are at hand if the delegates have the courage and the resolution to use them.

The new world, it is hardly necessary to add, is a world of law and order in which natural sovereignties are subordinated to the common good of all. The echo of the late Wendell Willkie's "one world" comes strongly back. Since the atomic arms race began, we know it is one world or none.

The details are subject to alteration since discussions are going on among the chief delegations. But in general outline the plans to be presented by the United States—and others who will be asked to join in—shape up as follows:

1. The idea of a permanent peace commission to keep a look-out over all tension areas of the world is being worked out. The British raised some objections to it in the form originally put forward. But it is hoped the concept can be salvaged.

2. Such a commission would report on threats to the peace before the fighting broke out. We are now told that United States army staff officers in South Korea ignored the warnings of a U. N. commission that the North Koreans were about to attack in force. A permanent peace commission properly constituted could not be so ignored.

U. N. Military Force

2. Formation of a permanent United Nations military force. This might be on the basis of volunteers enrolled in every member nation and trained by U. N. military specialists. Or it might be on the basis of specialized units contributed by U. N. members.

Such a permanent force would serve many purposes. Eventually it might be expected to carry out the decisions of the permanent peace commission.

3. Because the veto of the security council can in theory, and frequently in practice, block the best laid plans of mice and/or men, a way around this road block is being sought. The plan now under discussion involves delegating greater powers to the "little assembly," a kind of extra legal body formed over Russian objections.

The general assembly would delegate to the little assembly most of the powers of the parent body to be used when the general assembly was not in session. Thus on brief notice the little assembly could meet and authorize steps which might have been blocked by the veto in the security council.

Legal Maneuvering

This last involves a great deal of legal maneuvering. It may not in the end be possible. But even in the project stage it illustrates the determination to end the paralysis that Russia's willful sabotage has produced in repeated crises.

The Russians will do everything they can in the general assembly to prevent any of these things from happening. If they can spread sufficient fear and confusion, we may hear only the old familiar debates embroidering the theme of futility.

There is a new will to go forward that is reflected in various ways. One is the determination announced by President Truman to push a Japanese peace treaty in spite of the obstacles.

Preliminary soundings have already gone quite far. The Japanese have indicated a willingness to grant wide latitude for the location of American bases and American troops under a U. N. peace-keeping provision. The United States will push for the admission of Japan to the U. N.

Possible Stumbling Block

Reparations claims had been considered a possible stumbling block to a peace settlement. Now Prime Minister Robert Gordon Menzies of Australia has indicated that Australia will waive its claims.

In the present state of the Japanese economy, with the Japs' continuing dependence on American aid to live, such claims are highly unrealistic.

As head of the Russian delegation, Andrei Vishinsky has one assignment. It is to do everything he can to prevent the new world from being born; to crush any burgeoning hope that might arise at this latest meeting of the congress of nations. Too often in the past the western delegates have been beaten back by the Russian assault. But, just as in the U. N. beachhead in South Korea, there is today not much room left for retreat.

Precedent Behind Marshall

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 20.—Both politically and historically Gen. Marshall's appointment as Defense Secretary shapes up as an interim appointment—and this is certainly the most important fact about it.

The interim, as we might as well know, is not the Korean crisis or the world crisis. It is the Democratic party's political crisis. The situation in the precincts, rather than on the battle front, caused Mr. Truman to lower the ax on Louis Johnson's expendable neck.

Not long ago in the Senate Restaurant a top GOP strategist was enlightening your reporter on the Republican campaign technique. "Very simple," he said. "Our men are going to challenge every Democratic candidate to answer one question—do you or do you not approve of the policies of Secretaries Johnson and Acheson?"

Neat Trick

Even as Republican campaigners were gleefully rubbing their hands over this provocative query, they were called upon to use the same hands to applaud the new Defense Secretary whom Mr. Truman pulled from the hat. Such is the high character and great reputation of Gen. Marshall that few dared to do otherwise than applaud. It was a neat trick, nimbly performed; a tribute to the General's matchless integrity and the President's political resourcefulness.

But Marshall, alert and experienced at 69, is and can only be a fill-in. Less than two years ago he underwent a serious and weakening operation.

It is partly a question of how long he can stand up to the grinding task that killed one man and broke the career of another. But also it is a question of when Mr. Truman feels it politically safe to return to the natural line of succession—Frank Pace or Gordon Gray—which has been developed to train younger men for this difficult post. In any event Marshall is not a long-term appointment.

Change Law To Allow Move

We have the situation, then, that Congress was asked to change a law of the land in order to qualify a very fine military gentleman, even a very fine one.

Historical precedent has been cited to cover the situation. But the precedent, if closely examined, should be of more embarrassment than comfort to the White House. In the past when top generals were drafted for Secretary of War, it was political (not patriotic) necessity and for interim (not regulation) terms of service.

In 1867 there occurred the wild commotion when President Andrew Johnson tried to oust his war secretary and Congress in turn tried to oust President Johnson. Amid this fur-flying political squabble President Johnson tried to save himself by turning over the War Department to a man often called then, as Marshall is today, the greatest living American. He was, of course, Gen. U. S. Grant. How long did he serve? Five months.

In Political Scandals

Two years later Grant had become President himself and was already knee-deep in the political scandals which would eventually engulf him. In that single year he had no less than three Secretaries of War. The first was John Rawlins, his wartime speech-writer, who was a joke. This third was William Belknap who turned out to be a crook. The interim secretary who took the political heat off Grant was—you've guessed it—the most famous available General on tap, William Tecumseh Sherman.

In those days there was no law—only a strong tradition—against putting military men in the civilian job of running the armed services. This tradition was written into the present Unification Act for all to see. The Hoover Commission, which sponsored unification, acted on the well-founded theory that the U. S. is a government-by-men, much less a government-by-military-men. There is also the oft-demonstrated axiom that a welfare state is frequently the first phase of a garrison state. Those who wrote the Unification Act were taking precautions.

These are generalized observations and do not apply to Marshall whose sterling character makes precautions quite unnecessary. But there is one specific observation which does apply. The Grant-Sherman precedent suggests that when a President has political trouble in the War Department, he gets himself a fill-in General. The Marshall appointment is no exception to that rule.

WAR COST MOUNTING

Middle-aged persons can remember when a billion dollars was a staggering sum. Today the word billion rolls easily off the tongue, and a billion dollars is regarded as just one more blue chip in a bottomless pot. Only with difficulty can the profound effect the billions to be spent in the next 12 months be visualized.

President Truman has already signed the omnibus appropriations bill for $36,000,000,000. The Senate Appropriations Committee has approved supplemental appropriations totaling $17,000,000,000 more. This will bring the total for military expenditures at home and abroad to $30,000,000,000 and will raise the total budget to $53,000,000,000.

But that's not all. Within a few months Mr. Truman is expected to ask for an additional $10,000,000,000—possibly more, if the situation becomes worse. That would bring the year's military total to $40,000,000,000 and the total budget to $63,000,000,000. There is little opposition to these expenditures. The nation's security is at stake. But the inflationary impact will be severe. And today there is no unemployment and no low price level to take up some of the slack.

Present revenue sources at present rates provide a bare $40,000,000,000. The government will be compelled to raise at least $23,000,000,000 by other means. Borrowing such an amount would be equipping the inflationary trend with jet propulsion. Raising the entire $23,000,000,000 through higher taxes would hold down inflation and might be the least painful. What the citizens paid in higher taxes might be a little more than he would otherwise have paid in higher prices. But that will not be tried. No government would risk the effect on production, national unity and morale of tax increases on that scale.

This is an election year. Consequently the people cannot expect to hear all the bad news until after the election. Higher taxes and more drastic controls are on the way, but they will be kept to a minimum until after election. Next year, when the government drops the other shoe, taxpayers will discover that even today a billion dollars isn't chicken feed.

CRUCIAL TEST IN KOREA

Full scale war is under way in Korea at last, and there can be no doubt of the outcome unless Russia or China—or both—plunge into the conflict openly on the side of the North Koreans. The North Koreans failed to drive U. S. Forces out of Korea because they were unable to exploit successes that could have been decisive but for U. S. air power and mobile fire power. Now that they are being assailed from the front and from the rear, these same factors will leave them too weak to maintain a stubborn defense for long.

That probability should be borne out if the North Koreans do not get aid—in the form of aircraft or fighting men—from outside. But if this happens, it will be necessary to revise all estimates. If Russia decides to keep up this struggle either by direct intervention or through the Chinese Communists, World War III will be under way.

Russia must make a decision soon. If the Reds are determined to prevent a United States victory in Korea, they cannot delay much longer.

SEE INEQUALITY IN REPRESENTATION

Persons who have given thought to the subject must be impressed by the evidence of inequality found in the assignment of memberships in the Senate and House for the several states.

Provisions is made for two senators for each state, chosen on the state-wide basis, but the members of the House are chosen by districts on the basis of the state's population.

Delaware, Nevada, Wyoming and Vermont each have only one member in the House of Representatives, but they have the services of two senators each, like all the other states of the republic.

Eight states have a population large enough for two members in the House and two in the Senate—Arizona, Idaho, Montana, New Mexico, North Dakota, Rhode Island, South Dakota and Utah.

Six so-called mountain states have one-eighth of the membership in the Senate, but their population gives them only eleven members in the House of Representatives—a decidedly inequality in representation.

Problem The Parent

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

DON'T ROCK YOUR BABY TO SLEEP

It can be good for the baby to rock him; especially good to rock the tot from one to four or five by day when he has been excitable or out of sorts for some while. But to rock the young infant to sleep regularly is rarely a good practice. The infant or very young child may readily go to sleep at bedtime or go back to sleep on waking during the night if rocked in the mother's arms. But this child is likely to wake on being transferred to the crib or soon thereafter. This same infant may be rocked to sleep a dozen times during a single night, night after night.

First Child

Numerous mothers write me of this phenomenon, and well do I remember our first child, now a father of four young children himself, when he was an infant. Mrs. Myers and I did not consider ourselves child experts then. Anyway, the problem continued until the youngster was allowed to cry it out for several successive nights. What happens is this: The youngster snugly rocked in the mother's arms easily falls asleep. But on being put into his crib he feels the lack of the comforting movements and contacts and is disturbed enough to awaken. Or on being rocked to sleep, this child may be so fully relaxed as to sleep on for a period. Then on stirring a bit as he normally will, he discovers the absence of the comforting cuddle and rhythmic movements. Growing dependent on these factors for going to sleep, he may not go to sleep without them.

Remains Asleep

Let me hasten here to add that if any mother discovers that her infant goes to sleep readily on being rocked and remains asleep for the night or for most of it, she might be smart to go on rocking him to sleep, though she might desire to quit the practice before he is in high school.

Slowness of the infant under five months, say, at falling asleep when tucked in bed at regular bedtime or naptime can have one or several causes. He may not have had enough or proper food. He may have had too much. He may have been put down before he was adequately "burped." There may be digestive disturbances or other physical factors needing the physician's attention. He may be high-strung or excitable most of the time. He may be affected by certain nervous tensions in the mother caring for him.

Consequent Experience

He may have learned that by crying he can force his mother to tend him, pick him up and rock or carry him about. The consequent experiences can easily keep him awake. If at 12 or 15 months of age he is picked up or fed and catered to at any time he complains or cries, he may more slowly go to sleep on naptime or bedtime, or awaken more often in the night as he grows older. If, however, the mother finds this child going to sleep more promptly and sleeping longer at a stretch or through the night, she can safely assume that all is well. But if she has not begun with this nuisance she will be wiser never to let it get started. My bulletin "Sleep Problems: Their Prevention and Correction" may be had in a stamped envelope sent me at 235 East 45th Street, New York, N. Y. Let there be lots of cuddling and tenderness through voice and movements at all other times when the youngster is awake, the mother cultivating serenity in herself. Her inner satisfactions and securities and a comfortable family atmosphere are, of course, very essential for cultivating good sleep habits in her infant and young child.

WHY SOAK THEM

Some people say that it is all right to soak the rich. Perhaps the rich can stand the soaking. It is different with potatoes and other vegetables. Sometimes grandma can't sleep very well. She gets up early and pares the potatoes. Then she puts them in water until it is time to cook them. The wise boys say that the water takes a lot of good stuff out of the vegetables. So grandma will not put the potatoes in water any more. When she boils them she will try to use the least amount of water and not waste any of it. We need all of these vitamins and minerals to keep us in good health so why throw them away in the potato water? Grandma has a hard time keeping up on all these new tricks but her mashed potatoes—yum-yum!

Bible Thought

He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him; the word that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day. For I have not spoken of myself; but the Father which sent me, he gave me a commandment what I should say, and what I should speak. And I know that His commandment is life everlasting.—John 12: 48, 49, 50.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

First of all . . . we all agree on one point . . . that it takes money to operate any government . . . and the money has to come from one source . . . the people. And it should come from all of the people . . . not just a portion of the population. Therefore, it seems that we have a challenge . . . right here in New Castle, and the people of the community should take the challenge and do their bit.

The question has been raised . . . should we have a wage tax . . . or should we have a sales tax. Council members differ, which is alright, this is a free nation and people are entitled to their opinions and that's exactly what all the rest of the population here in New Castle are entitled to . . . their opinions, and if the opinions are worth anything they should be told right now, and the proper place to tell these opinions is to council members . . . remembering that Mayor Haven is the chairman of council.

Too many people discuss these problems on the street corners . . . and that's as far as it goes . . . then when something comes along like the last election . . . many of these same people are saying and many of the people who say them have only themselves to blame . . . why? Because they were too lazy to talk when the proper time to talk was present.

Today it's time to talk again . . . ideas are needed . . . good ideas on how to gather in the money to operate the city government . . . Everyone in our opinion should have a part in the financing . . . It isn't right that only those who own their own homes have to pay the way. It's an old question that has been raised time and time again. The wage tax seemed to be the answer . . . those who rented had a hand in paying their share of the city costs . . . everyone represented.

Friday morning is the time to have your opinions in writing or in person and the Mayor is the chairman of the council board . . . let your opinions be known . . . not after everything is worked out.

One Man's Opinion

(By International News Service)

When MacArthur moved in his furniture the North Koreans called Moscow "thought you said he'd only stay overnight!"

They were fooled when the general made an earlier quick trip in and out. They didn't know he had just come over to measure the living room and count the windows for curtains.

But when he loads his pipe rack and tobacco on a plane we know he's about to open a branch office dealing in wholesale and retail victory.

Of course this thing is far from over. The president got off his yacht the other day and said we've all got to tighten our belts.

That's easy enough to say after you've had pork chops for lunch followed by a rough afternoon on the water.

But with new credit regulations you've got to get up almost as much cash for a down payment on a $2,000 automobile as on a $10,000 house.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Do you believe in dreams? If so, perhaps you can help me out. I read all through Sigmund Freud's "Interpretation of Dreams" to figure out this one, but found nothing more enlightening than this sample paragraph:

"I know that an unregulated stream of thoughts, devoid of directing ideas, can occur as little in the realm of hysteria and paranoia as in the formation or solution of dreams. Perhaps it does not occur at all in the endogenous psychic affections."

So you see, there isn't much help in Freud. In the meantime I am stuck and ask for your help.

I have mentioned Oscar, the delicatessen man, in this column several times, since he is quite a practical philosopher.

Oscar is grateful to me for mentioning his name. Apparently it has increased his business somewhat.

He knows I am fond of Nova Scotia salmon, by the quantity of that delicacy which my wife buys in his shop.

So, wanting to reciprocate, he offered to send me a big consignment of smoked salmon with his compliments.

I refused with thanks, stating that my mentioning him was based on merit and not on merchandise.

But apparently Oscar could not forget. When my wife went to his store yesterday to buy some cold corned beef he told her that he had dreamt about me.

She asked him WHAT he had dreamt. He hedged a few moments. But she insisted.

In his dream, he said, he had sent me a ten-pound slab of delicious, tender Nova Scotia salmon. I immediately began to eat it.

I cut off a big slice, put it on rye bread and smacked my lips. I ate another slice.

I became thirsty and drank a big glass of water.

So it went. A slice of salmon. Thirst. Water. In the process of eating, and drinking water, I started to swell up. I got bigger and bigger (around the waist) until I could hardly waddle.

Then there was an interlude, a dark spot in his dream, so to speak.

Next he was sitting at the beach. Suddenly he saw me coming toward him.

He knew it was me because the face was mine.

But the rest of me was an enormous Nova Scotia salmon—and it was the first time in my life that he had ever seen a fish dressed in a bathing suit.

I waved one of my fins to him, and then, suddenly, I leaped into the ocean and disappeared from sight.

He woke up with a cry. But it was too late. I was gone.

What does it mean? Oscar doesn't know. I don't know. Freud doesn't tell. Will YOU help?

Councilman Davis Gives His Tax Views

City Councilman Richard I. Davis who is in charge of the departments of public safety and health today issued a statement concerning the proposal to eliminate the City Wage Tax.

His statement follows: "It is gratifying to see the interest people have taken in our present tax problem. As we approach a new year, we are again faced with the duty of preparing a budget, and now is the time I would like the taxpayer to express his opinion on how this money should be raised and how it is to be spent.

"I think New Castle should be justly proud in the part she played in having the first truly 'Home Rule Tax Law,' known as Act 481, passed by the Legislature. The original intent in the passage of that bill was to allow the taxing bodies to reduce property taxes.

"A Democracy everyone has the right to own his own home and, I believe, should, if at all possible. This right may be deprived to a great many, especially to young couples, if property must bear the total cost of local government. With this thought, the City reduced property tax 5 mills when the Wage Tax was adopted.

A good law, however, is always abused, and when the other taxing authorities saw the fairness and practicability of such a tax law, they imposed the same tax, but did not reduce property taxes. Under our original ordinance, the City would have received approximately $570,000, but now as a result of the new Amendments to Act 481 the City will only be allowed to retain about $207,000 next year.

As a result, property taxes may still have to be raised, but I do not see that this is a reason for abandoning the Wage Tax. Two wrongs do not make a right.

"If the City Wage Tax is discontinued, then council will have to either add $500,000 to property taxes or reduce services, such as inspection of weights and measures, plumbing, collection of garbage, etc., the very protection the average taxpayer needs most. There would still be a school wage tax, and probably the school would pick up the five mills dropped by the City, which they have a perfect right to do. I originally voted in favor of the Wage Tax, because, after considering all other methods, I believed it to be the fairest to all concerned. I know a certain employee making over $600 per month. He has two daughters living at home, each making $200 per month. This $1,000 per month family is living in a $4,000 property. They don't like the Wage Tax. They want the millage on property raised. I think it is healthy that every wage earner support his government directly, as he votes directly.

"I do not say that the Wage Tax is the answer to all of our tax problems. Because of the restrictions in our Federal and State constitutions, we are not able to write the exact kind of ordinance I would like to see, and therefore, there may possibly be some cases of hardship, but again, until we can improve on what we have, I do not see any reason for discarding the progress already made. I am open to any suggestion as to a better and fairer way to raise money for your government."

IN WRONG PEW

Just sharpen your pencil—and there you are!

ACROSS this broad land there are thousands of people who have been doing themselves a disfavor.

Seems they "just naturally assume" a Buick is beyond their reach—and so pass up the car they're really itching to own.

Now why "assume" anything as important to your happiness as a new car?

Why not see for yourself how delivered prices run—how close Buick matches your own budget—how frequently it is priced under some cars you may be considering?

Then—if there is a particular car in mind—sharpen up your pencil a little.

Is it a six—or an eight, like Buick? If an eight, is it a valve-in-head eight? That adds a plus in efficiency, you know, even without the extra edge of Buick's Fireball power.

Will you ride on four soft coil springs, as in Buick—or on only two? Will the drive be through a sealed torque-tube that keeps the rear wheel assembly firmly aligned? It is in a Buick.

Do you get soft, low-pressure tires as part of the price—or as extras? Will you have bumper guards built as part of the bumper, or a one-piece cast-metal grille that can be costly to repair or replace?

Does the price include air cleaner; oil filter; dual horns, windshield wipers and sun visors; an automatic dome light; self-locking luggage lid; a single key for all locks?

And is there an automatic drive*, or one in which gears still shift in normal driving?

*Dynaflow Drive is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

Tribute To Gen. MacArthur

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—"I'm in love, I'm in love, I'm in love with a wonderful guy," if Miss Mary Martin will temporarily pardon me for stealing the words out of her mouth.

My guy is name of MacArthur. Douglas A., general, U. S. A. A real hep guy who can shoot any trouble in my yard from now on. But before we go any further, let me explain that my intentions are strictly honorable and military; I can't think of anything that would induce me to vote for a military man for the presidency.

Otherwise, Gen. MacArthur gets my vote, whether of confidence, gratitude or just plain, heartfelt thanks.

Mighty Handy Man

By this time, it should be plain even to his critics that the general is a mighty handy man to have around the house or the beach-head in time of trouble. And trouble's the thing we got the most of at the moment, with little indication that the sun is going to break through and drive the clouds away in the foreseeable future.

But the general's critics still have the hammers out. I had scarcely stuck my nose out of the house today when some clown says isn't it terrible and downright disgraceful about Gen. MacArthur taking a load of furniture to Korea with him in an LST when every inch of shipping space is needed for men and materials. And wouldn't you think the general would be ashamed of himself and know better, and bla, bla, bla, ad infinitum.

Well, I say to this beeper, apparently you did not read the next paragraph of the story which says that the general is so confident of victory that he took with him a few sticks of furniture to equip an office and boudoir.

That's Psychology
And furthermore, I say, getting real hot under the collar, evidently you did not read that the general's confidence in the invasion of Korea, as indicated by his shipment of furniture, was reflected in every fighting man Jack including green troops without previous combat experience. That's called "psychology," in case a jerk like you doesn't know.

It says that morale is so high. I continued, that troops are not even kicking about K-rations or Spam. And furthermore, I added, if a few sticks of furniture, denoting a guy's determination to invade and make it stick, can do that for the army, let the general float his whole darn house to the beach-head.

And in addition, I says to this belittler, don't go telling me that the general is a ham and a grandstander. Sure, he's a ham and that's one of the reasons he's my hero. It is also one of the reasons he is a great general.

No Crime To Be a Ham

And while I am giving you a piece of my mind, I says to this detractor, if it were a crime to be a ham a guy named Winston Churchill would now be serving a life sentence plus 99 years in the pokey.

And I might add, I continues, that some late parties named Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Teddy Roosevelt, Gen. George Patton, Babe Ruth and Wendell Willkie were hambos of considerable renown and that fact did not make them any less valuable in their respective leagues.

And if you want to make something of it, I adds, some undiscriminating soursuppers call it ham, but more perspicacious persons know it as color, personality, individuality or just plain guts, any and all of which have always been highly regarded as American traits. And while I am on the subject, I continues unabated, do not tell me you are tired of seeing that same old picture of the general wading ashore. He has waded ashore 11 times in recent years for you and me and I thought he looked better each and every time. And I never hear tell of him wading off shore until he has accomplished his mission.

The giant cactus blossom is the official flower of Arizona.

PIN-WORMS MAY BE A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms... tiny parasites that medical experts say infect one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Woman In Prison For 22 Years Asks For Commutation

HARRISBURG, Sept. 20.—(INS)—A 57-year-old Bristol woman described by her attorney as having been in prison longer than any other female inmate in Pennsylvania asked the state pardons board Tuesday to commute her life sentence.

Mrs. Maria Tillotta, implicated in the death of her husband John 22 years ago, asked release from the state industrial home for women at Muncy so she can spend her old age outside of prison.

She was sentenced to life imprisonment after three men beat her husband to death on a Bucks county road in December 1928.

Testimony at her trial brought out a love affair between the woman and a neighbor, Joseph Guida. Guida allegedly paid $500 to a cousin, Giacomo Guicciardi, to procure the three slayers from Brooklyn.

Guida was electrocuted. Guicciardi, who pleaded guilty, was sentenced to life but was paroled seven years ago. The other three were never apprehended.

State Internal Affairs Secretary William S. Livengood, Jr., reminded Attorney Henry D. O'Connor of Philadelphia of the serious nature of the crime.

"Here is an example of a completely cold, calculated killing by hired assassins to kill her husband so that she might marry her paramour," Livengood declared.

Masquers To Stage Popular Comedy At Slippery Rock

The Masquers of Slippery Rock State Teachers college will present "Mother Is A Freshman" in the Sheehy theater on Thursday and Friday, September 21 and 22. This play, listed under the many activities planned for this fall session, is under the capable direction of Miss Janette Burns.

Leading the cast will be Margaret Mielke of Wampum, who will play Mrs. Abigail Fortitude Abbott, a widow and mother of a pert winsome girl of 18 named Susan, played by Anna Maier of Pittsburgh. Playing the good-looking and personable Professor Michaels is Cam Iseman of Butler.

"Mother Is A Freshman" is the story of the trials and tribulations that confront Mrs. Abbott when she finds it necessary to attend the same college in which her daughter Susan is enrolled. Complications arise when Mrs. Abbott finds herself in love with the handsome zoology Professor Michaels, unaware that her daughter also has a secret love for the professor. After many embarrassing situations, everything works out for the best and everyone is happy.

The rest of the cast includes Vivian Fink, Phyllis Shanks, Dorothy Moore, Jean McBride, Mary Chapman, Anna Marie Vekasy, Beverly Dunn, Jack Moore, Ernie Pate, Bob Appleton, Mickey McBride and Eugene Wagner.

Pot roasting or braising are good methods for cooking meat in hot weather. Use a heavy utensil with a tightly fitting cover and start with no more than a half cup of liquid; add more liquid as needed as the meat cooks.

Man Sentenced To Die On October 2 Asks Commutation

HARRISBURG, Sept. 20.—(INS)—Paul Francis Perry, 39, appealed to the pardon board Tuesday to commute the death sentence imposed on him for the murder of his 34-year-old wife, Inez, in their Towanda home January 30, 1949. Perry is scheduled to die October 2 in the Rockview electric chair.

Bradford County District Attorney Wayne Smythe opposed the clemency plea, branding the slaying "a deliberate, intentional act". Towanda Counsel J. Roy Lilley described the shooting as accidental and said Perry was intoxicated at the time.

Perry, Lilley said, was "kind-hearted, decent, inoffensive". He had brandished the 30-30 deer rifle only to frighten his wife, he said, and did not realize there was a shell in the chamber.

State Internal Affairs Secretary William S. Livengood, Jr., referred to a description of Perry as an experienced hunter and said an experienced hunter doesn't leave a loaded gun in the house.

COLORS BECOMING WITH WHITE HAIR

When her hair has definitely turned white, softening the features, the woman whose dark hair has previously limited her color scheme may enjoy a greater variety with her silvery crown of glory.

If her skin is clear, she will look stunning in vivid red and purple. If her skin has faded, neutral reds, soft rose and flesh tones are more becoming. If her eyes are blue, soft blues are flattering—likewise green and blue-green.

All light pastel shades and cream-white are very becoming to white hair; so is all-black, which creates a striking contrast with the hair. Beige, tan and brown will do nothing for the silvery-haired woman.

If gray is chosen, it should be slightly darker than the hair; otherwise, the hair will take on a darker hue. If the skin is aged or yellow, all plain grays should be eliminated entirely. Blue gray, with blue accents are becoming to the women with white hair, blue eyes and light skin.

Grays with rose and coral accents are usually becoming if the eyes are brown. In most cases, a touch of make-up will relieve sallowness and allow a wider choice of becoming colors.

Question: Give me the customary rules governing a wedding rehearsal—that is when it takes place and whether it should be followed by a party.

Answer: The rehearsal preceding a formal wedding usually takes place the previous evening. It is customary, or at least it is done in a great many cases, to entertain the participants at a supper after the rehearsal. If the rehearsal takes place in the afternoon, it is usually followed by a tea. If the bride and her family do not care to give a party, they need not do so. It is optional. At the rehearsal another girl takes the place of the real bride, and the actual words of marriage are not pronounced. The bride-to-be usually watches from the first pew.

NEW CASTLE OFFICE RECEIVES 350 CLAIMS FOR SOCIAL SECURITY

Social Security figures show that in the past two weeks more than 350 persons whose claims for monthly benefits had been previously rejected because they were not qualified by sufficient length of work under the earlier Social Security Act, have made application at the New Castle office for benefits under the recently approved Amendments to the Social Security Act.

Most of these claimants now qualify under provisions of the amended law permitting those now 65 or older to become eligible for Social Security insurance if they meet a minimum length of work requirement.

The New Castle office has received a number of inquiries during this period from survivors of deceased wage earners.

Mr. Milbourn, manager of the New Castle Social Security office pointed out that the new eligibility requirements affect only the wage records of those persons who were living on the date the amendments became effective, or, Sept. 1, 1950.

TRUCK DRIVER IS HELD ON CHARGE OF MANSLAUGHTER

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 20—(INS)—An Allegheny County Coroner's Jury yesterday ordered a 23-year-old truck driver held on a manslaughter charge in the death of a University of Pittsburgh student.

Coroner William D. McClelland requested the verdict and warned in the future he will request similar charges against drivers whose overloaded trucks are involved in fatal accidents.

The driver, Anthony Baldassare, drove the truck which plunged out of control in nearby west Mifflin borough last August 14. The truck, bearing five steel coils, smashed into an automobile operated by 21-year-old Richard Shiffler.

Weight checks showed overloading at the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation's Irvin works, which does not have scales and does not weigh trucks.

A Carnegie-Illinois spokesman said his firm will prevent overloading in the future.

The use of all forms of anesthetics was delayed by clergy, who argued that to free a patient from pain was opposing the will of God, who wanted his people to suffer.

CORRECT LIFTING PREVENTS INJURY

Correct lifting should be practiced until it becomes a habit. Each year thousands are victims of sprains, strains, hernias, and other injuries caused by improper lifting.

According to the records of the National Safety Council the most common causes of lifting injuries are as follows: (1) lifting and lowering with the back muscles instead of the leg muscles; (2) insecure grip or footing and unsafe placing of hands or feet; (3) using quick, jerking, twisting, or awkward movements of the body; (4) obstructed vision, unstable loads, or inadequate control; (5) insufficient help or failure to use mechanical aids.

The body is a mechanical system of levers and hinges, activated by cables just like many machines. Nature intended each bone joint and muscle for a specific purpose. When overloaded or used improperly, injuries are invited. It is a common practice to bend at the waist when reaching down to grasp an object. Lifting in this position places a severe strain on the sensitive back and abdominal muscles.

Always bend your knees and keep back straight when it becomes necessary to lift. Examine farm lifting jobs with a critical eye. Rearrange the work to eliminate or reduce the amount of lifting required. Explore the feasibility of using simple and safe mechanical aids, such as rope hoists, wooden skids, hand trucks or inexpensive conveyors.

FUMIGATED STORED GRAIN TO RID OF INSECTS

The smallest, quietest, and most determined thieves that enter grain bins are insects. Insects living in farm grain bins eat or destroy 5 per cent or more of our nation's stored grains and cereal products every year. They cause an annual estimated loss of at least 300 million bushels of grain. You don't need to share in that loss provided you act promptly to prevent insect damage in your stored grain.

Grain bins and stored grain should be carefully checked every few days to see if insect infestation can be found. As soon as any signs of an insect infestation is observed, the grain should be fumigated. Information on fumigation and other methods of controlling insect damage to grain may be obtained from the Agricultural Extension office, 206 Post Office building, New Castle.

EVERGREENS REQUIRE THOROUGH WATERING

Here are some timely mid-September reminders for flower gardeners. If peonies have not been divided, separate them into strong divisions, each with at least 3 to 6 good eyes. Cover these eyes with 2 to 3 inches of good garden soil. Water thoroughly after planting. By planting peonies 5 to 7 feet apart none may need to be removed from 7 to 10 years or longer.

Look over the rock garden and see if it is in need of additional plants. Some plants may be divided and transplanted into the bare areas.

Don't delay placing orders for Fall shipment of bulbs, such as tulips, hyacinths, narcissi, daffodils, crocuses, and other similar bulbs.

Plant poppy seed now. This will insure germination and provide a wealth of bloom in the garden next spring.

Evergreens planted in early Fall need thorough watering immediately following the planting. A mulch of 2 inches of peat moss, well-decomposed hardwood sawdust, coarsely ground corn cobs, buckwheat hulls, or similar mulch material will help to maintain moisture.

Look over the flower garden and select well-developed seedling plants of calendulas, lantanas, dwarf asters, or similar plants, which can be potted and used for enjoyable effect in brightening up the interior of your home. Geraniums and begonias in the flower border can be dug, potted into 6 to 8-inch pots and used on the window sill.

WAIT FOR FLY-FREE DATE TO SOW WHEAT

Observance of the fly-free date in sowing wheat is particularly urgent this Fall because of an unusually heavy infestation of Hessian fly.

The fly-free date is September 27 for Lawrence county. In many places there is a large amount of volunteer wheat with the result a supplementary brood of Hessian fly has developed. Only by waiting for the fly-free date will the new wheat seeding be safe from this pest.

Enrollment Increase At George Washington Junior High School

There are 128 more students enrolled for the fall term of 1950 at George Washington Junior high school than there were for the same period last year.

The total enrollment for 1950 is 700, and for 1949, 572. The breakdown by classes includes: 100 boys, and 109 girls in the seventh grade; 134 boys and 115 girls in the eighth grade; 141 boys and 104 girls in the ninth grade.

Part of the increase can be attributed to the 56 eighth grade students sent there by Neshannock township schools.

Witness Dead But Accused Plead Guilty

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 20.—(INS)—Fifteen narcotics violators who did not know the only witness against them was dead were convicted in Dallas federal court.

The defendants pleaded guilty yesterday and were given prison terms ranging from six months to three years before they were informed that federal agent Donald R. Smith had died Thursday of polio.

The FBI explained Smith's death was kept secret because they feared the pleas would be changed. Smith made narcotics purchases from most of the suspects.

Round Speaks To Lions Club

Need Of Religion In World Expressed

Addressing the members of the New Castle Lions Club, at their weekly noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Tuesday noon, L. B. Round, president of the Pennsylvania Power Company, stated that there is a need to turn to religion in our contemplation of many of the evils, which are facing the world today, particularly the forces of Communism and other materialistic things.

Magna Charta Freed Men
He recalled the words of Paul in Ephesians, in which Paul stated, "For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places."

For centuries, Mr. Round stated, political and economic questions were bound up with religious beliefs, and the right belief depended in a large measure upon the particular belief of the baron or ruler of a principality.

The first great milestone in man's desire for freedom came with the Magna Charta in 1215, for this granted to free men, religious and other liberties. Men advanced in their degree of freedom, but today, we again find men enslaved by political beliefs as expressed in some other lands.

Quoting from Patrick Henry, who said, "No free government, or the blessings of liberty can be preserved to any people but by a firm adherence to justice, moderation, temperance, frugality, and virtue, and by a frequent recurrence to fundamental principles."

Urges Bible As Foundation
Today, people are being led astray by the principles of Christian Socialism. As Lions, who represent the highest type of citizenry, he urged his hearers to be leaders in thought of a constructive nature, and to press for those things which are for the best interests of our country and the Democratic principles upon which our country was founded.

The philosophy of some of the present-day free thinkers, he asserted is the direct opposite of that enunciated by William Penn and the liberty-loving founders of our country. The answer to the conflict in thought, he stated, can only be found in the source, which provided the foundation of our nation, "The Holy Bible."

In The Open

Wayside tourist camps are doing a rushing business. Overday lodgings with meals are offered the travel-weary customers, who crowd the air lanes through the night as they follow the sun south. At last I have found out the reason for the tangled mess of giant ragweed and mustard and wild sunflower which spread in head-high confusion across the wide bottomland behind the house. I thought at first that the sole purpose was to help along the misery of district hay fever, but now that the tourist rush is on this trackless jungle serves as landing field and refueling station for the winged hosts beating southward.

A mighty army of redwinged blackbirds spent most of one day in the area. They came in from some far northern marshland during the night, and at dawn rode the tangled sea of vegetation like a thousand small boats in quiet harbor. They grew more active as the day advanced, feeding in small platoons and now and then going aloft to practice their flight formations.

Now Bleached Out
The sun and the wind and the rain, plus the Summer chores of feeding youngsters and ganging up on every passing hawk or crow, have bleached out the bright red epaulets the gaudy males wore when they came through here last March. Now these shoulder patches are a dingy reddish brown. Sometime during the day the trumpet sounded and the whole entourage took off as one bird. Probably we won't hear that familiar racket again until another March when they pause in the scyambles by the creek to let us know that Spring is on the way.

I spent an enjoyable weekend afternoon tracking down a persimmon grove which had been reported on a cut-over hillside just a few miles from our doorway. The land owner gave me some general directions, and I made a first traverse across the hills, but wound up in a grove of heavy-fruited hawthorn in a pasture several hundred yards wide of the mark. I found walnuts and wild crabapples and a million red haws, but no persimmons.

I returned to the house and the owner left off picking a basket of quinces to brief me further. First I had to find a certain spring. The persimmons were within fifty feet of this spring. I took off once more, crossing a field glowing with flat-topped goldenrod, and finally arriving in the general vicinity of the quarry.

Way To Locate Spring
The best way to locate a hillside spring is to listen for the chatter of the flowing run-off. I kept one ear alert for this clue and an eye alert for the trim little trees, dedicating all remaining senses to the task of ducking the vicious blackberry canes and avoiding ground-hog holes.

Suddenly the happy chuckling of the tiny brook revealed a narrow trace through the undergrowth. I backtracked up hill and came to the spring breaking free from its underground channel beneath a hawthorn bower. Just below stood a wild black cherry tree full of the fattest and ripest cherries I have seen this year. This caused a temporary halt for refreshments.

I was now loaded outside with beggar ticks and inside with wild cherries, but I started a wide circle about the spring, quartering every rod of the ground in search of the elusive quarry. An odd alarm note again halted the proceedings until I marked down its source as a black billed cuckoo, who sat plainly in the sun while he scolded me. The guttural scolding language he used was remarkably like the occasional small talk of the tree toad.

Osage Orange Usurpers
A grove of young osage orange has usurped much of the land near the spring. These fellows added to the difficulties of the terrain and in the first wide circle I still had no trace of the persimmon trees. There was purple stemmed aster in all its flowering glory, and some tall grapes purpling on the vines but still no persimmons.

Finally I went back to the spring, made a short east down hill to the left and from an opening scanned all the branches overhead. This time I struck oil. The little colony of trees was there as reported, hidden so carefully by a screen of osage orange that only the most persistent searching could have probed out the secret. The pucker little fruits were spotted about on the branches, after the manner of this little member of the ebony family. I brought along one small twig as evidence of the success of the afternoon's objective and moved back into the humdrum world of telephones and alarm clocks and eight-hour days.

In 1948 there were 21,514 individuals that used the building; and in 1949 this number increased to 21,962 individuals.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Leo Durocher recalls with a nostalgic gleam in his eyes a tale about the murderous Yankees of the Ruth-Gehrig era. Mark Koenig led off one inning with a triple to left. Tony Lazzeri sent him in with a double to right. Then the Babe and Lou Gehrig followed with tremendous drives into the right-field bleachers.

That brought up the Yankee third baseman, Jumping Joe Dugan. On the first pitch, he shortened his bat, laid down a perfect bunt, and beat the throw to first with plenty to spare. Manager Miller Huggins came steaming out of the dugout and bellowed, "I ought to fine you a hundred bucks for breaking up a rally."

Brian Donlevy still gets laughs with his story of the Aberdeen brothers who learned their old father was seriously ill in London, and dispatched the eldest son to look after him. "Wire us when you've seen him," said the other two. "and remember you can send ten words for a shilling." That night they received the following wire: "Arrived safely. Father dead. Funeral Tuesday. Rangers two, Celtics one."

Massachusetts Voters Name Coolidge As Governor Candidate

BOSTON, Sept. 20 — (INS) — Massachusetts Republicans today chose 69-year-old Arthur W. Coolidge of Reading as their standard bearer in the November elections against Governor Paul A. Dever, who was renominated without opposition.

Coolidge, former lieutenant governor and a fourth cousin of the late president Calvin Coolidge, swept to an impressive victory in the field of six GOP gubernatorial primary hopefuls, including retired chief of naval operations, Admiral Louis Denfeld.

Laurence Curtis, of Boston's Back Bay and a former state treasurer, easily won nomination from a five-man field of aspirants for lieutenant governor.

Coolidge and Curtis head a slate of GOP constitutional nominees to oppose the Democratic incumbents who surged across the bay state in a political landslide two years ago.

In the Democratic primary, Lt.

Gov. Charles F. Jeff Sullivan, Atty. Gen. Francis E. Kelly, and Secretary of State Edward J. Cronin all won renomination in decisive fashion.

Treasurer John E. Hurley and Auditor Thomas J. Buckley, in addition to Gov. Dever, were unopposed for renomination on the Democratic ballot.

Ohio-Edison Co. Strike Settled

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20—(INS) —The strike of 3,500 CIO-Utilities Workers in the Ohio Edison company's Akron district was settled early today after two days of almost continuous mediation sessions.

Malcolm said terms of the peace included an improved pension plan, three weeks vacation after 15 years service, a 12-cent hourly wage increase, with 4.5 cents of the raise retroactive to July 1.

This year the school board receives 3 1/2 mills from the one percent imposed.

It is reported they propose to collect five mills next year.

It is the latter phase of the Wage Tax that will be discussed.

NEW OFFENSIVE ON EAST COAST BEGUN BY SOUTH KOREANS

man reported from the Inchon-Seoul front in a dispatch received at 9:53 Wednesday night (8:45 a. m. EDT) that the Marines who crossed the Han suffered less than 50 casualties by noon.

It was five hours and 15 minutes after the Leathernecks began crossing the river in amphibious tractors and over an aluminum trestled bridge, mounted on six big rubber pontoons, that carried the Marines' 47-ton tanks across the Han.

Many Surrender

Most of the North Korean troops assigned to defend the river bank in the Hoengju area surrendered to the first waves of Marines who smashed across the wide stream. Others who tried to change from their uniforms into the traditional white clothes of Korean civilians were pointed out by South Korean non-combatants who welcomed the Americans.

Mounting thousands of Red troops were perishing and other thousands were taken prisoner under batterings of Allied land, air and sea forces along both the northern and southern arms of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's nutcracker offensives.

The historic 45,000-ton U. S. Battleship Missouri, racing around the Korean peninsula from the east to the west coast, joined the Allied liberation fleet off Seoul's port of Inchon. She hurled 16-inch shells many miles inland in support of the ground forces closing in on Seoul.

Announce Breaching

The breaching of the Korean capital's river barrier was announced officially hours after the news had come in field dispatches. A communique from the headquarters of Gen. MacArthur, now at the Inchon beachhead in personal command of the amphibious drive, declared at 3:40 Wednesday afternoon (2:40 a. m. EDT):

"Advancing elements of the United States First Marine Division crossed the Han river this morning in the area west of Seoul."

Enemy Loses Heavily

In three sectors alone 7,504 enemy troops were reported from various sources to have been killed during the past few days. These included 3,800 enemy dead found inside Pohang, another 3,500 discovered in the walled mountain town of Kasan, north of Taegu.

Reached a point on the Nakdong's west bank one mile northwest of Waegwan. They were already athwart Korea's main railroad and highway which runs northwest from Pusan through Taegu, Waegwan, Kumcheon and Taejon to Seoul.

The Americans thus were astride the peninsula's "spinal cord" railway route within 15 miles below the important hub of Kumcheon which is 113 airline miles southeast of Seoul. It was along this classic invasion route that the North Koreans had swept down from the 18th parallel border to overrun all but the southeast corner of South Korea.

Advances Up To Seven Miles

Latest field advices however told of new Allied advances ranging up to seven miles, with increasing signs of wholesale enemy retreats at many points along the southeast battle perimeter.

A front dispatch from International News Service War Correspondent Irving Levine reported at 5:37 p. m. Wednesday (3:37 a. m. EDT) that U. S. 24th Division troops had smashed seven miles north from their bridgehead across the Nakdong river.

By 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon (3 a. m. EDT), these units

COMMUNISM IS TREASON WAKE UP AMERICA

DEAR FRIENDS:

J. Edgar Hoover, F.B.I. Director, spoke the following words of advice at a dinner here in New York on May 2, 1950:

"The times demand candid and forthright words. Communists have been and are today at work within the very gates of America. There are few walks in American life which they do not traverse. Their allegiance is to Moscow; their hopes are spurred by the writings of Marx and Lenin, not Jefferson, Madison and Lincoln; their enthusiasm is whetted by expediency and deceit, not tolerance and brotherhood. Atheistic materialism is their idol; the destruction of the God of our fathers their goal. Wherever they may be, they have in common one diabolic ambition: to weaken and to eventually destroy American democracy by stealth and cunning. There is an organization built and supported by dishonesty, deceit and tyranny and a deliberate policy of falsehood. They know that as long as the ideals of common endeavor, mutual respect and tolerance remain alive they can never bring to fruition the Communist World revolution. That is why Communists consider America their Number One Enemy. A strong America, materially and spiritually, is a constant beacon of light, buoying the hopes and aspirations of millions of men, women, and children crushed under the yoke of Communist tyranny which today controls the destinies of one-third of the peoples of the world."

"The thought of a Soviet United States is at once revolting to every right thinking American. We have seen the Communists at work and have observed the application of their principles sufficiently to know what would happen here if they succeeded in the attainment of their objectives. If every American faced the reality of what the fulfillment of the Communist objective would mean to him—he would be inspired to work harder to protect and preserve the individual liberty and freedom which is part and parcel of our American way of life."

"The struggle for the preservation of our freedoms places a duty on every man, woman, and child in the Nation to do his bit in order that this Government of the people, for the people, and by the people shall continue to flourish. If each of us does his duty, the outcome is certain. Almighty God, The Supreme Architect, will give us the strength, wisdom and guidance to triumph against the onrush of Red Fascism and Atheistic Communism."

On the eve of this day 1950 the personnel of the United Shoe Factory Outlet believes it is timely to offer the above words of wisdom and understanding for your observation and study.

Ecumenical Register For Local Women

Protestant women, representatives of various congregations in Lawrence county, met in Epworth Methodist church Tuesday afternoon to receive inspiration and instruction for an ecumenical register of women. The meeting was sponsored by the New Castle Panel of the United Council of Church Women. Mrs. J. F. Rentz is chairman of the ecumenical register in Lawrence county.

On October 8-15 The ecumenical register is to be conducted from October 8-15. The first one in our country was conducted last year in Los Angeles, Calif. When a woman signs an ecumenical registration card, it means that she is willing to stand up and be counted for Christ. One who registers also contributes a dollar to be used in projects, sponsored by the United Council of Church Women. The local panel of the United Council of Church Women expects to enroll 1,500 women in Lawrence county.

Mrs. Rentz, who presided at the meeting, explained how the registration is to be conducted, pamphlets being distributed to key women of the county churches. The word ecumenical was derived from the Greek word for "household." The meaning in Christian usage is "whole household of God, all nations and all branches of the Church."

For 533 years the church was split. At the International Missionary Conference in Edinburgh in 1910, the delegates decided to work together in the mission fields. Charles Henry Brent, an Episcopal Bishop of the Philippines, who wanted more, said, "The World is too strong for a divided church."

Many local people heard reports of those who attended the World Council of Churches at Amsterdam in 1948. The Protestant church needs unity in thinking. All women in our country as well as those in other parts of the world are needed to help in the Kingdom of God, regardless of denomination.

The eight interdenominational agencies in the United States follow: Foreign Missions, Home Missions, Federal Council of Churches, International Council of Religious Education, Missionary Education Movement, Higher Education, Stewardship and United Council of Church Women.

To Register Million It is expected to register a million women during the ecumenical registration in the United States. The money contributed will be used as the United Council of Church Women's share in aiding interdenominational religious work in our country. The money will be used in new united projects, to aid State Councils, to enlarge women's work, ecumenical education and for the World Council of Churches.

After women of the congregations in Lawrence county churches have completed their registration, the cards and money are to be sent to Mrs. Charles Campbell, 913 Dewey avenue, or Mrs. J. F. Rentz, 219 Winter avenue. The registration is to be completed by October 15. The registrations are to later be sent to a National Council meeting in Cleveland November 26-December 1.

Mrs. Campbell served as accompanist for group singing. Mrs. Rentz offered the closing prayer.

WHAT ABOUT THE BLOOD BANK?

Because there appears to be some misunderstanding about what the Blood Bank is and how it works, the undersigned have approved the following questions and answers in an effort to set the record straight.

WHAT IS THE BLOOD BANK?

It is a reservoir of whole blood (not plasma) which is drawn from healthy people, processed and kept under refrigeration until needed by people who are ill or hurt.

WHERE IS IT?

All the county hospitals have blood bank units.

WHO CAN USE IT?

It is primarily for the people of Lawrence County. Blood from the Bank is used regularly by the New Castle Hospital, Jameson Hospital, Ellwood City Hospital and Deshon Veterans Administration Hospital. In an emergency, Blood Banks of other counties can send blood to us or we can send it to them.

WHO SPONSORS IT?

The Lawrence County chapter of the American Red Cross and the Lawrence County Medical Association.

ARE PEOPLE PAID FOR GIVING BLOOD?

No. The Red Cross program is entirely voluntary. This is a program of, by and for our people. Most people consider their blood as too precious to sell. However, they are glad to give a pint of their blood to save the life of a fellow citizen, friend or relative.

DO PEOPLE WHO USE THE BLOOD HAVE TO PAY FOR IT?

Although there is no charge for the blood itself, there is a charge of $10.00 a pint for the transfusion. There is no charge, of course, for indigent patients.

WHY SHOULD THEY HAVE TO PAY IF THE BLOOD IS GIVEN FREE?

The $10.00 charge helps to cover the cost of preparing the blood. Approximately half of this charge ($5.50) goes to the central blood bank for taking the blood from the donor, processing and laboratory service in connection with preparing the blood, determining the usability of the blood and preserving the blood. The remaining $4.50 goes to the hospital in which the transfusion is given to cover the cost of the special bottles, syringes, dressings and medical supplies necessary. This $10.00 charge is the same or less than that asked before the blood bank went into operation.

ARE THERE ANY OTHER CHARGES FOR A TRANSFUSION?

Yes. The doctor who administers the transfusion may charge a modest fee.

IF A FRIEND OR RELATIVE GIVES BLOOD TO ME IS THERE A CHARGE?

Yes. The blood must still be processed and the equipment used. The charge is $10.00.

DOES IT HURT TO GIVE BLOOD?

No. The drawing of blood is painless and healthy people can give blood every three or four months.

MUST THE PERSON WHO GETS A TRANSFUSION REPLACE THE BLOOD?

We feel that they should want to help others as they have been helped, but they do not have to replace the blood they have used.

DOES THE BANK NEED BLOOD NOW?

Yes—the need is urgent. One person in fifty needs a blood transfusion every year. 200 pints are needed monthly in Lawrence County.

HOW CAN I VOLUNTEER TO SAVE A LIFE?

Call the Red Cross Blood Center at 39 North Beaver Street, New Castle. Telephone No. 5084 (from 9:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.) and make your appointment.

Yankees Hold Half - Game Edge In Terrific American League Race

Boston Red Sox, Tigers Are Very Much In Fight, Phils Are Just Coasting

By HOWARD SIGMUND
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Gather 'round children and you shall hear about the zanziest American league pennant race in 42 years.

In case you are wondering if anything can top last season's pulse raiser that ended on the final day—ease up. This 1950 thing may be the same, but with three teams, no less.

Yanks Blow One

Statistically, the New York Yankees are in first place today, one half game to the good. Boston and Detroit are tied for second.

One has to go way back to 1908 to find an equal. In that year, Detroit, Cleveland and Chicago went down to the last day with the Tigers finally prevailing.

The Yankees blew a 4 to 3 decision last night to the White Sox and Lefty Bob Cain, and it may mean more than just another critical loss to the bombers. This one could very well cost the flag.

Cubs Blank Phils

Boston's game with Cleveland was rained out and the Tigers took advantage of this and tied the Sox for second by walloping the Philadelphia Athletics, 12 to 4. Washington stopped St. Louis, 5 to 3, in a night game.

Chicago Cub righthander Frank Hiller had it all over the pennant-bound Philadelphia Phillies. The 30-year-old hurler limited the whiz kids to two hits, faced a minimum of 27 men and beat Robin Roberts, 1 to 0.

The loss cut Philadelphia's National League lead to 6½ games.

Boston's Braves scored two runs in the ninth inning to nose out the hapless St. Louis Cardinals, 8 to 7.

Bucs Lose Two

Brooklyn swept the Pirates, 14 to 3 and 3 to 2. Gil Hodges and Duke Snider each hit two homers in the first game as Don Newcombe registered his 18th win. Ralph Kiner poled numbers 44 and 45 in this contest.

The New York-Cincinnati game was rained out.

It would obviously be better for Joe Louis memory as one of the great all-time heavyweight champions if he could let it go at that and never step into a ring for a serious fight again.

A night night, the fifth in Penn State history, will pit the Lions against Syracuse university at Syracuse October 14.

A. & H. Wins Softball Tournament Championship

Edge DeCarbos In Final Game

John Pace Voted Most Valuable

Allen-Houston won the championship of the first annual District Softball tournament Tuesday evening at Gaston park by defeating the DeCarbo Bombers 6-4 in the final.

Eddie Franks held the Bombers to two hits and struckout five while notching the in. Johnny Pace hit a triple with two men on to give A. & H. its margin.

Pete Demos contributed a triple and Nick Ross a double to the Allen-Houston attack on Tony Tuscano. Tuscano held the winners hitless for four innings, but weakened in the fifth and sixth, when all of the A. & H. runs scored.

The Bombers held a 4-0 lead at the end of four innings. Richards and Tuscano had the only hits off Franks.

William DeCarbo, James Leasure, Norm Rhodes and Andy Benegasi presented the trophies after the game.

All selections for awards were made by commissioners Earl Riley.

Klee Points Out Team's Defects

Hope To Catch "Fire" Friday Night

Members of the Elks Quarterback club heard Assistant Grid Coach Bill Klee tell what is wrong with the 1950 Ne-Ca-Hi grid machine at a dinner-meeting held last night in the Elks' banquet hall. However, he sounded an optimistic note concerning the game Friday night with John Adams of Cleveland. New Castle has lost two successive games, to Carrick and Latrobe, respectively. Danta DeFalco, end, and Wilbur Foht, halfback, were guests of the club.

Following the steak dinner, Rube Kennedy, who with Austin Cowmeadow were named by Exalted Ruler Tom Armstrong to co-chairman the club this season, introduced Klee, DeFalco and Foht. Referring to Foht he recalled how last season Foht broke into the Farrell game and stole the ball.

DeFalco said: "I guess all of you were as much disappointed Friday night as I was. However, when we get started, we will go places."

Foht remarked: "I believe we have the 'fire' but have not yet caught on 'fire'."

Assistant Coach Klee stated: "We are hoping the team finds itself Friday night against John Adams. It is wonderful to have a club like this 'behind' you when things go bad, because a losing team does not possess too many friends."

"For the first time this season, I believe we have some life in the team. In practice this evening (Tuesday) the team looked great. However, we're far from a polished club."

Green Team

"We started the season with a new line, excepting Tate and DeFalco. We lost out center, Charles, to the Army. You cannot replace a boy of his ability in a year."

Klee said the coaches are not yet satisfied with the line.

He recalled that plenty of damage was done around left after Boak was knocked out of the game on the second play. "Our blocking was bad, both on the line and in the backfield."

"We realize what is wrong but we are doing the best with what we have," Klee said, then added that "the forward wall is green."

Ralph Johnson was lost through eligibility rules. He commented that had this not taken place Johnson would have proved an outstanding "back" this year.

Chairman Kennedy followed Klee stating that the exalted ruler, Tom Armstrong had said that providing Ne-Ca-Hi wins Friday night, the entire grid machine of New Castle high will be dinner guests of the Quarterback Club.

Motion pictures of the Carrick game were displayed. Assistant Coach Klee analyzed the game, pointing out New Castle's defects.

Stock Cars Will Race Backwards

CANFIELD, Ohio, Sept. 20.—In tonight's program of stock car racing at the Canfield Speedway, where another large field of contestants will try to win top honors, a novelty has been added to the Amateur Race. The contestants in this race will run six laps forward, crossing the finish line, and then going into reverse and running backwards for the seventh and final lap.

The field will find it pretty hard to get around the turns in reverse. This is the unorthodox way of getting around a racetrack to take the checkered flag. This race should present many thrills and laughs for the fans and will be tried for the first time here tonight.

Frank Reagar, former University of Pennsylvania grid star, decided to rejoin the world champion Philadelphia Eagles rather than accept an assistant coaching post at his alma mater.

Bill Jeffrey, who'll field his 25th soccer team at Penn State this fall, is an inveterate letter-writer.

Red Hurricane Lineup Due For Some Changes Friday

When John Adams of Cleveland shows up in Taggart stadium Friday night, it's pretty safe bet that he'll see some faces that haven't appeared in a Red Hurricane starting lineup before.

Coaches are doing some experimenting on the Cane forward wall and if things work out as hoped, three or four of last week's starters will be seeing the opening kickoff from a different angle.

Only three of last week's starting linemen were working out with the first team in Tuesday afternoon's practice session. Buckey Tate and Danny DeFalco at tackle and Hugo Fiorante at right end were the only survivors in the experiment.

Bill Boak has still not recovered from the concussion received in last Friday night's game and was not out for practice. Sonny Cook was taking his knocks with the second team, while Anthony Marino was being given a shot at the first string left end position.

Paul Buckner and Joe Marinelli worked out at the guard positions, while Paul Bober and Sam Perrino, last week's starters looked on. Fred McClain changed sides of the ball with Sam Medure at center in another hopeful venture.

Ray Latsko, apparently fully recovered from a knee injury suffered in the Carrick game, was declared ineligible for 60 days at a meeting of the WPIAL decisions committee in Pittsburgh Tuesday night. . . Ralph missed too many days of school last Spring and under Section 3B WPIAL Constitution and By-Laws will not be eligible for sports until 60 school days after his absence prior to the Latrobe game by high school principal Clare Book, who referred the case to the decisions committee Tuesday night. . . Mr. Book and the principal of Bridgeville high school, both members of the decisions committee, exchanged congratulations at the meeting. . . Bridgeville has been WPIAL class B champions for the past two years and lost their first WPIAL game in over two years during the past weekend.

Clare McQuiston and his son, Chester, both of Wampum, and Merritt McQuiston, 109 East Moody avenue, New Castle, a brother of Clare, have returned from a successful antelope hunting trip to Saratoga, Wyo. Each bagged an antelope. The one shot by Clare McQuiston is considered a perfect animal. Both beams of the animal measured 16½ inches. The spread measured 16½ inches and around the base of each horn is 7½ inches in circumference. The hunters who engaged in the antelope hunt made a pool and it was awarded to Clare.

The trio left Pittsburgh on a DC plane Thursday, flew to Saratoga, Wyo., and each shot an animal with a 30.06. Friday, they flew back to Pittsburgh, arriving in New Castle Monday.

In the antelope hunt were 51 hunters. The animal killed by Clare McQuiston will be mounted. The heads of those killed by Chester and Merritt McQuiston will also be mounted.

House At 520 Friendship Street In New Castle

The house located at 520 Friendship street in New Castle is just the same as any other house in its neighborhood except that it is bigger and perhaps older than the rest.

Inside children are playing and working, and if the weather is nice they are also playing and working outside. It's just like your home and mine except that instead of two or three children there are 35.

Thirty-five boys and girls, that otherwise would be getting along as best they could, where they weren't wanted or couldn't be cared for, have a home that they can call home.

This is the Margaret Henry Home for children. It is financed by the residents of the community through their Community Chest.

Furnish Necessities

The home asks only what is needed to feed, cloth and house the children throughout the year. For 35 children this amounts to quite a bit, and it is through your Community Chest that the necessary funds are obtained.

The extras—the things that add comfort and enjoyment—have been and continue to be supplied by clubs and civic and business organizations of the community.

Mrs. Lida Green—affectionately referred to as Ma by those who know her best—is matron of the home. She is very ably assisted by Miss Bertha Patterson.

The children arrive at the home for a variety of reasons. Many are victims of broken homes, the parents of some can't care for them and several have no parents. They are kept at the home until they graduate from high school and are able to support themselves.

Attend Public Schools

They range in ages at the present from four to 17. Children of school age attend Pollock, Benjamin Franklin Junior high school and New Castle Senior high school, the same as any other children in the neighborhood.

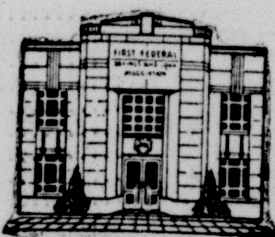

The boys and girls have their duties to perform, the same as in most home, and when these are done they can play and have a good time.

It is the closest thing to a real home that the children have known and for those that have left, it is still home when they return for a visit.

Those persons that have never visited the home, should take the opportunity to do so during the "Come and See" tour on September 26, 27 and 28.

For a simple summer supper dish, serve eggs a la king. Add canned chopped mushrooms, slices of pimiento, green olive rings, and thin strips of fresh green pepper to creamed eggs. Serve over hot biscuits, rice, or toast and accompany with green peas.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Fear of the Dark

At one time or another most children are afraid of the dark. Whether they overcome this fear depends a good deal on how we growups meet the problem.

Making fun of them, forcing them to go into dark places to prove there's nothing harmful or shaming are commonly used attempts, but they aren't very good ones. At best, the youngster is merely likely to hid the fact that he's still afraid. At worst, we may even increase his fear.

A positive attack is the one that should be used. There are a variety of ways to go about this, but here is one suggestion that has worked well in many families.

Plan on accompanying the frightened child on a twilight trip. Encourage the youngster to watch the birds "turn in" for the night; have a competition with one another as to who can find the first star.

The central idea, of course, is to substitute fun for fear as far as darkness is concerned. A few evenings of the sort mentioned above will usually do the trick. But if there are still signs of fear, one must not be impatient.

Tender Age Club Has First Meeting

Mrs. Leo Orelli of 833 South Mill street was in charge of a new club formed on Monday evening in honor of Miss Mary Lou Orelli. Mrs. Orelli will supervise eight little girls from the age of six to ten years, and once a week the group will learn something new from their leader.

Organizing the club and playing games were the pastimes of the afternoon, with prizes going to Patty Ferrare and Ginger Cassella. A buffet supper was later served by the hostess.

On September 25 the group will gather at Mrs. Orelli's home, with Miss Sally Paladino to assist her supervisor.

Truck Driver Is Given Sentence

HARRISBURG, Sept. 20.—(INS)—A 28-year-old Bedford truck driver who said he had fallen asleep at the wheel shortly before his tractor-trailer smashed a State trooper against a parked car was sentenced on Tuesday to 23 months in prison.

Specially presiding Bedford County Judge J. Colvin Wright ordered Robert Bingham to serve the term in Dauphin county jail after a plea of guilty was entered to a charge of involuntary manslaughter. The commonwealth made no recommendation in the case.

Bingham drove from Bedford to Brooklyn, N. Y., and was on a return trip after slightly more than four hours sleep when the truck killed Trooper John A. Ditkosky on route 22 near Harrisburg, according to the record. The trooper was questioning a driver when hit.

About 20 Per Cent Of Allegheny Co. Families Have T.V.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 20.—(INS)—About 20 per cent of Allegheny county families have television sets. Ninety-eight per cent have radio sets and about one-third have automobiles.

Statistics were compiled by Guide-Post Research, a Pittsburgh survey group, which checked 1,500 representative homes in the county. C. F. Ackenheil, director of G-P Research, estimated there are 125,000 auto radios and 850 home radio sets in the county—not counting those in clubs, institutions and commercial establishments.

Twenty-two per cent of families whose income exceeds $3,500 annually have TV sets compared to 17 per cent in homes with lower income.

Seventy-two per cent of the families have two or more radio sets.

Historical Medical Highlights No. 36

HAPPY ACCIDENT!

"WHAT did you think when you discovered the X-ray?" a fellow scientist asked Wilhelm Roentgen, a German physicist. He replied, "I did not think ... I experimented!" His discovery of the X-ray in 1895 was semi-accidental but there is no mistake about the far-reaching effect of the X-ray on the fields of science and medicine. The X-ray is best known in the treatment of cancer. As for its effect on science, the X-ray made physicists revise their ideas on the composition of matter, and led them to undertake experiments which resulted in the release of atomic energy in 1945.

Your pharmacist can read a prescription the way your physician reads and X-ray plate ... he sees not only what you see there but also its medical significance. It is this awareness that stands you in good stead, and insures proper handling of drugs.
